Peace River Takes Steps To Secure Its Incorporation as a Town; Limits To Be Extended

Agreement Signed With Hospital Board Whereby Hospital Will Provide For All Patients of District Unable to Pay—Board of Trade Urges Central Canada Railway For Early Construction of Loading Facilities.

Special to the Bulletin.
Peace River, June 25.—This week marks an epoch in the history of the village of Peace River and this is that steps are being taken to incorporate it into a town. A census will be taken at once and if population has reached the seven hundred mark the matter will be laid before Hon. W. Garfield, minister of municipal affairs, while he is in the village.

Application is also being made to extend the village limits as many people living on the edge are enjoying the privileges without paying for them. This matter was brought up at the meeting of the town council last Monday night.

Also an agreement was signed with the hospital board to the effect that the hospital will provide for all patients of the Peace River district who are unable to pay, the village paying to the board the sum of three hundred dollars in monthly payments of twenty-five dollars. By action of the council the village will now concentrate its efforts and transfer from debt to the current account the sum of $293.60.

The board of trade is actively engaged in promoting the interests of the district. It is urging the Central Canada railway for an early construction of loading facilities, stockyards, and a loading platform. The subject of elevators for handling the fall grain was also brought up and efforts will be made to induce companies to build one more, in preparation for the coming season.

Great expectations are being indulged in the village over the prospective sports that will be held at Bear Lake, July 1st and 2nd. Minors' homecoming. Every available car and vehicle has been secured to handle the transportation from the Crossing. A big program of sports, including horse races, men's races and many novelty races has been planned. Provision is being made for those who desire to remain overnight.

George Hoadley and A. F. Ewing were the principal speakers at a political meeting held here last Saturday night. S. G. Tobin also spoke for a few moments in answer to an invitation to any in the audience.

Messrs. Hoadley and Ewing repeated the usual criticisms of the Sifton government saying that the government called an election because it was not afraid to go to the people on its own record and that it preferred to continue as the direct representatives of the people rather than prolong its term of office.

Big Crop Acreage.
From reports gleaned from all parts of the district between Peace River and Dunvegan estimates show there are from 15,000 to 20,000 acres of land in crop this year, a great increase over last year. There is every indication of a bumper crop. A large portion of the acreage is unusually well cultivated. The supply of moisture is excellent owing to the heavy snowfall of last winter and the good rainfall of the season. Although the seeding this year was a little late the unusual good growing weather has brought everything along splendidly.

Allan McKenzie of the Bank of Commerce, who is in especially close touch with conditions throughout the farming community, states that the crop this year is a full ten days ahead of the corresponding week last year, while travellers from the southern part of the province were greatly surprised at the very advanced condition of the grain crop, stating that it is further advanced than any in central or southern Alberta.

Officials on Inspection Tour.
Dr. McLennan, vice-president of the E.D. & B.C. railway and W. R. Smith, general manager, arrived at Peace River on Saturday in the private car "Lac La Biche." Their trip was made to inspect the construction work upon the bridge and in the yards. Mr. Smith stated to the Bulletin representative that work would proceed as rapidly as possible but that until the water receded it would not be possible to go very much further. The bridge should be ready for use by the middle of next winter.

McLennan.
Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Otto made a business trip to Fairer last Wednesday. A pleasant time was enjoyed by the party. Mr. Otto was given a tour of the town and the surrounding country. Mr. Otto was given a tour of the town and the surrounding country.

Mr. and Mrs. Bellas and Mrs. Ritz made a trip to Peace River last Monday. The farmers of this district are more than pleased with the prospect of a bountiful harvest. The imminent sunshine and showers seem to be timed exactly to the needs of the growing crops.

Octave Savard is busy constructing himself a new cottage. He is building on a lot of 10 acres. He is building on a lot of 10 acres. He is building on a lot of 10 acres.

Groulx & Hamel have their gasoline launch now in good repair, and it can be used almost any evening. The launch is now in good repair, and it can be used almost any evening.

Mr. Chas. Roath, who left here about a year and a half ago for Omaha, Nebraska, returned on last train and received the glad hand from his old acquaintances. Mr. Roath says that although things are fairly brisk in the States the longing for the north was too strong to be resisted and he was glad to be back.

Mr. Dingle, of Messrs. Dingle and Stewart, Winnipeg, visited the town this week. This was Mr. Dingle's first trip to the north and to say that he was surprised would be an understatement. He was surprised to find the north so much more developed than he had expected.

Miss Ruth Kilfoyle and her brothers, Larkin and Elton attended the dancing party held at the Fort Assiniboine hall, June 14th.

Mr. Wesley Cartwright is now working on the creek. There is talk of a Fourth of July celebration at the Fort. Nothing definite has been decided yet.

Mr. Joe W. Freeman River spent Sunday with Miss Bertha E. Prudy at the Fort.

Paul Jackson is at Clyde on business for the Stock Breeders' Association recently organized here. He is bringing back with him a pure-bred Shorthorn bull which will be taken care of by W. B. Combs of this place.

Mr. J. C. F. expects to move into the Miller house and remain there while working down the place in timber.

Fort Assiniboine.
Bulletin Correspondence.
On the 14th inst. we had a visit from the Griffin Creek baseball club. The boys were accompanied by a fair number of their followers. In the afternoon they met their old rivals, the Griffin Creek team. The Griffin Creek boys reversed the score upon this occasion and retired the victors.

The fair grounds are becoming useful to all the settlers.

GOLD RUSH IS REPORTED TO FORT ST. JOHN

Special to the Bulletin.
Peace River, June 25.—Word has been received from passengers upon the Northland Call which this week returned from Fort St. John of an important gold rush in that district. Gold is said to have been discovered about 25 miles west of Hudson's Hope and a number of claims have been staked out.

The steamer D. A. Thomas which left Peace River today carried a large passenger list and about 500 men of those aboard going up river called by the lure of the gold excitement.

GROUARD
Bulletin Correspondence.
Elections are now over and every one is now getting down to a normal state of feeling and does not look on his neighbor as an enemy any longer. However, we are glad to say that the event passed off very quietly and peacefully and although each side worked diligently it was all done in a spirit of fairness which was very pleasing to both parties.

A couple of ranchers living down on the Camrose branch visited the town last week in order to look over the country to see what the prospects were to start a ranch and were highly pleased with the locality here. It seems that they had done considerable travelling all through the north looking for a suitable location and concluded that Salt Creek prairie fitted the bill better than anything they had seen elsewhere and we expect to see them back again next spring with quite a large band of live stock.

There is no doubt but that in the vicinity of Grouard lies some of the best grazing and winter feed country to be found anywhere as we have the water and any quantity of hay for winter feeding.

Mr. J. Keith, manager for Revillon Freres, was in town last week to inspect the post here and left here for Wabasca, going by way of Whitefish Lake.

Mr. Pickett, who was temporarily filling the position of telegraph operator since Mr. Burpee's resignation, has been transferred to Spirit River and Mr. Parry, formerly lineman here, has been appointed to fill the position.

Mr. Parry has made many warm friends since his appointment here a year ago, and being an expert telephone man he has put the telephone line in a better position and the service on it now could hardly be improved on. His position as lineman is being filled by Mr. Blackwell, who we understand intends to bring in his family in a very short time.

Work on the roads close to Tomkin's Crossing is going ahead very rapidly under the supervision of A. McKay, and when this is completed a first-class graded road will be completed right from Grouard to Tomkin's Crossing.

The fishing industry which has been carried on so extensively on Lesser Slave Lake this summer is now closed as far as catching Whitefish is concerned as the Dominion government has set a limit to the number of pounds which can be taken in one season and we understand this limit was reached about a week ago, but we believe it is the intention to continue to fish for Jack fish and there is no doubt that the more of these that are taken from the lake the better for the Whitefish.

Mr. Chas. Roath, who left here about a year and a half ago for Omaha, Nebraska, returned on last train and received the glad hand from his old acquaintances. Mr. Roath says that although things are fairly brisk in the States the longing for the north was too strong to be resisted and he was glad to be back.

Mr. Dingle, of Messrs. Dingle and Stewart, Winnipeg, visited the town this week. This was Mr. Dingle's first trip to the north and to say that he was surprised would be an understatement. He was surprised to find the north so much more developed than he had expected.

Paul Jackson is at Clyde on business for the Stock Breeders' Association recently organized here. He is bringing back with him a pure-bred Shorthorn bull which will be taken care of by W. B. Combs of this place.

Mr. J. C. F. expects to move into the Miller house and remain there while working down the place in timber.

RED CROSS FETE AT BEVERLY DOMINION DAY

Held Under Auspices Public Boards—Flag Raising, Sports, Shooting Competitions.

The people of Beverly are uniting in a splendid effort on behalf of the Red Cross. They have decided to hold a Dominion Day Jubilee Patriotic Bazaar and school grounds on July 2nd. The official sponsors for the function are the town council, the school board and the Beverly branch of the Red Cross society. They have also enlisted the support of the entire town, and if the weather conditions are favorable, a splendidly successful day is anticipated.

The program will commence at 10 o'clock in the morning with a patriotic address, which will be given by Dr. W. A. Atkinson, of Beverly, which will be followed by a flag raising ceremony. Lunch will be served by the ladies of the Red Cross, from 12 o'clock noon until 1:30 p.m. and the afternoon will be devoted to races, sports, shooting competitions, etc. For the winners in all events valuable prizes will be given. Merchants generously contributed prizes to be competed for at this picnic, and they are of such a valuable nature that all events promise to be hotly contested.

The Beverly people will give a warm welcome to as many Edmonton residents as can make it convenient to attend this interesting function.

MESOPOTAMIA REPORT MOST OUTSPOKEN

London tonight defines the report as "the most scathing and outspoken official report of the investigation of the Mesopotamia campaign since it began, not even excluding the report on the ill-fated Dardanelles campaign."

Division of Responsibility.
The commission's report, says the report, "finds that the expedition was a justifiable military enterprise, but that the division of responsibility between the India office and the government of India in connection with the objective of the expedition was never sufficiently defined in advance."

"The report criticizes the commanders in chief, or their representatives, for failure periodically to visit Mesopotamia. It says the advance toward Bagdad was an offensive movement based on political and military miscalculations; was attempted with inadequate and inefficient forces and with inadequate preparation and resulted in the Kut disaster."

Censure Gen. Nixon.
"The responsibility for this untoward advance," says the commission, "lies with Sir John Nixon, whose confident optimism was the main cause of the decision."

"In general, the armament and equipment were quite insufficient to meet the needs of the whole system, and the commissariat was badly organized during the period of the expedition," says the report, "although no general breakdown occurred. The authorities at Simla bestowed meagre attention and liberal treatment upon the wants of the expedition."

"In connection with the advance toward Bagdad and the Kut relief operations," says the report, "the military authorities did not sufficiently realize from the first the paramount importance of river and railway transport in Mesopotamia. Their responsibility is grave."

"Sir John Nixon is found responsible for recommending the advances in 1915 with insufficient transport and equipment. The transport shortage, beginning in 1915, rendered the Kut relief operations futile."

Showed Unfitness.
"The commission found that Surgeon General Hathaway showed unfitness for his office, while the viceroy, Lord Hardinge, is held generally responsible for the expedition," says the report, "the commission proceeds."

"The most severe censure must be passed on the commander in chief in India, who not only failed to closely supervise the expedition but also failed to provide the necessary authority for him to do so, declined to take notice of rumors which were true."

The Associated Press says the signatories to the report are Lord George Hamilton, Earl Donoughmore, Lord Hugh Cecil, Sir Archibald Wilson, Admiral Sir Cyril Briddle, General Sir Neville Lytton and John Hodge, minister of labor.

In his separate report, Josiah C. Wedgwood, commander in the Royal Naval Reserve, recommends, according to the Associated Press, putting the Indian army under control of the war office in London.

CANADIANS PUSH AHEAD TO LA COULETTE

Follow Retiring Enemy And Capture Village With Slight Resistance.

Canadian Army Headquarters, June 25.—Canadian troops entered the village of La Coulette this morning. The Germans have withdrawn from a line about one and three-quarter miles long. The retirement of the Germans ceased during the night. Patrols sent out on that part of the front opposite Mercurio and to the south found the enemy's front line strongly held. The Germans used many flares throughout the night and threw rifle grenades whenever our patrols were observed. In the vicinity of La Coulette machine guns were in action all night.

The night was wild and pitch dark. The torrential rain which fell was accompanied by high winds which held up the attack toward the village until daylight.

Little Resistance.
All night our artillery was extremely active. The flash of guns along the front seemed like distant lightning. It was more like a storm than a thing of man's handiwork.

Early this morning the men who had lain out in the wet trenches were cheered by orders to advance. A barrage was laid upon La Coulette, and closely following, the Canadians moved forward about seven in the morning, encountering little resistance. The Germans have made enormous craters at all the cross-roads in the zone and leading towards Lens.

These craters did not exist forty-eight hours ago. About nine o'clock this morning the enemy front and support lines south of La Coulette were occupied. The Germans have retired from their strong positions in front of Mercurio.

Board of Trade to Give Alternate Meetings to Business and Addresses
In view of the difficulty that has been experienced in keeping Board of Trade meetings on a regular basis, the board has decided to adopt, as an experiment, during the months of July, August and September, a suggestion that the first meeting in each month be devoted to the transaction of business without any pre-arranged address, and the second meeting in each month, to be devoted to addresses and other business.

The council recommended that a resolution from the Ottawa board of trade, which was referred to the council, be endorsed. It was as follows: "That the Dominion government be requested to amend the Pure Food Act so as to require all bottled, canned and dried goods of all descriptions, sold in Canada for food, to have the net weight of contents marked upon them in a legible manner, and to make re-branding a criminal offense."

The secretary was instructed to take up with the Minister of Customs the question of certain rulings of that department under which importers of certain goods appear to be arbitrarily required to pay more duty than is called for by the Customs Tariff.

Telephone System.
That it would be undesirable at the present time to exchange the present city telephone system for a more modern and flexible type owing to the large investment which would be required, should receive from the provincial telephone system a certain percentage of the cost of the new system.

The report of the live interests committee presented to the board of trade by H. Milton Martin, who said that the live interests committee for the province had been set up to take this matter up with the minister of railways and telephones at the earliest possible moment.

The above were the main recommendations of the report of the live interests committee presented to the board of trade by H. Milton Martin, who said that the live interests committee for the province had been set up to take this matter up with the minister of railways and telephones at the earliest possible moment.

Fix Prices in England.
LONDON, June 25.—The first order of Baron Rhonda, food controller, was today announced for the formation of a department to arrive at accurate figures as to the cost of food, so as to enable the controller to fix prices.

DYSPEPSIA MOST DIFFICULT TO CURE BUT B.B.B. DOES IT
Dyspepsia is one of the most difficult diseases of the stomach there is to cure.

You eat too much; drink too much; make the stomach work overtime. You make it perform more than it should be called on to do. The natural result is that it is going to rebel against the amount of work put on it. It is only a matter of time before dyspepsia follows.

That forty-year-old remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters, will cure the dyspepsia, and will cure it to stay cured as we can prove by the thousands of testimonials we receive from time to time.

Mr. Neil A. Cameron, Kiltarity, N. S. W., writes me writing you a few lines to tell you what your great medicine Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I was troubled very much with dyspepsia for the past two years, but they did not help me any. At last a friend advised me to try a bottle of B.B.B. I took four bottles and was totally cured. I will gladly recommend it to all sufferers."

B.B.B. is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

LIBERALS ARE CONFIDENT OF SWEEPING VICTORY ON FRIDAY IN THE PEACE RIVER ELECTION

Railway Policy of Sifton Government Makes Liberal Candidate Favorite of the Electors in the North—Great Enthusiasm Shown at Meetings at Spirit River and Elsewhere in the Constituency—Opposition Candidates May Lose Their Deposits.

Spirit River, June 25.—The Holden hall was crowded to capacity by interested electors who greeted the three cabinet ministers who addressed the electors of Spirit River at two meetings last week. Hon. C. B. Mitchell and Hon. Duncan Marshall addressed the meeting on Wednesday. Mr. Mitchell was listened to with intense interest when he described to those present matters dealing with affairs relating to the fiscal part of the policy of Sifton government. Mr. Mitchell pointed out that in the enormous development of railroads which had taken place in the Peace River country the Alberta Government had not been called on to pay out one cent of interest on the money which had been borrowed by the railway company on their bonds and that it was not at all likely that a railway reaching into a country such as this would ever come to be a charge on the provincial treasury.

Training the Youth.
Mr. Marshall went into details on matters relating to agricultural education and pointed out what his department was doing in the training of the youth of the province for scientific farm work. Mr. Marshall was still speaking in daylight at about midnight and the great audience seemed quite satisfied to stay till morning if he would keep on talking. The speakers were interrupted by frequent rounds of applause and there was no uncertainty as to what the vote of the people would be when the ballots are cast on June 29th.

Hon. Wilfrid Garfield and Hon. Chas. Stewart addressed another crowded meeting on Saturday evening. Mr. Garfield gave interesting information relating to the department of municipal affairs and gave the audience an idea of the many matters which called for attention from the department. Mr. Stewart touched on many things of interest to the electors in relation to his department and also criticized the opposition for trying to mislead the electors and telling them that the soldiers were discharged from voting.

Assured of Election.
The Liberal candidate is assured of election here by a wide margin and is the whole constituency it seems to be now only a matter of which point will show the largest majority. There will be keen rivalry for this honor as the different points are regarded as quite probable that both Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Adair, the opposition candidate, will lose their deposits.

The opposition speakers have been addressing meetings in all parts of the constituency but have met with only lukewarm receptions as the question most prominent here is the question of railway development and the electors are well pleased with the efforts of the Sifton government of their behalf.

Wm. Rae, returned to Spirit River today, having addressed a series of meetings from Peace River to Dunvegan. The meetings were attended by large numbers of electors and the speakers were received with enthusiasm at every point.

The people of the Peace River and Waterhole country were enthusiastic in their praise of the Liberal government of Alberta and for its policy of railway development in the north country, and the policy of the Conservative party in trying to block this development at every opportunity meets with no favor. This part of the country is the seat of the Liberal government and the Liberal government is for more railroads. The party which opposes development cannot look for any support from the electors of this constituency.

A New Shipment of 1500 Pairs of $7.00 to $15.00 Values go on Sale for Two Days Only, Wednesday and Thursday, at $4.75!

THE trend of the leather market during the past six months has thoroughly convinced us that every effort should be put forth to keep prices down. So, after studying the situation most carefully, we finally came to the conclusion that so far as women's high-grade shoes were concerned that we couldn't do better than make arrangements with the makers of DOROTHY DODD for as many pairs of "seconds" as they could possibly let us have, despite the fact, even these "seconds" have also gone away up in price.

But on the other hand, when you stop and consider that these same identical shoes in perfect condition sell today at $7.00 to $15.00 per pair, you can plainly see you can't do better than wear "seconds" as a war-time economy innovation.

THIS LAST SHIPMENT is undoubtedly one of the best assortments we have ever received, and includes 1500 pairs in 50 or more of the season's smartest styles, in all the fashion-favored leathers and combinations of leather.

Wednesday we purpose placing on sale, Sizes 1 to 5 only and 5½ to 8 only on Thursday!

We have made this division of sizes on account of it being such a huge shipment, and to simplify selection of sizes, and also to enable us to better cope with the crowd that always comes in response to one of these sales. Sizes 1 to 5 will be on display in the window Tuesday, and sizes 5½ to 8 on display Wednesday, for Thursday's selling.

$4.75 They are in button and lace styles, possessing all the latest, smartest features in toes, heels, tops, etc., in all leathers and combinations of different leathers and colors. Patent leather, vici kid, gun metal, bright kid calf and suede, in black, brown, pearl gray, russet, tan, champagne, ivory, white, etc.; have turnover or Goodyear welt soles, on smart, comfortable lasts. Wednesday, sizes 1 to 5 only. In all widths AA to E. Regularly $7.00 to $15.00. On Sale 8:30 a.m., at

Does Not Intend, However, To Mobilize Nation Against Its Will

London, June 26—A dispatch to the Times from Athens says that as soon as parliament is convened M. Venizelos will probably propose to the deputies that Greece join the allies. He does not intend, however, to mobilize the nation against its will. He is expected first to undertake a great campaign explaining to the people that Greece's interests are bound up in the outcome.

If his mission is successful he will be able in about three months to put the entire forces of Greece into the balance.

THE PURPOSE OF THE BILL.

The assumption gathered from the press despatches has been that the conscription bill before Parliament was designed as a measure for raising reinforcements for our army. That impression is in error. The purpose of the bill is to complete the authorized establishment of a half million men. When that has been done the question of securing reinforcements to keep the army up to the half million standard will have to be dealt with. It is provided in the bill that the number of men to be conscripted shall not exceed 100,000. That is the approximate number required to make up the shortage in some of the eastern provinces and to bring the army up to the intended size. That being the case, it surely is in keeping with the ideas of fairness between one section and another, of fairness between one man and another, and of the common responsibility of people in all parts of Canada to assist equally in its defence, that the shortage in the original establishment should be made up from those provinces whose failure to provide their quotas has caused the shortage. That done, all the provinces would be on an equal footing, and conscription for reinforcements could be applied everywhere with absolute fairness and without cause for friction.

EQUALIZATION OR DISCRIMINATION?

The United States is at the beginning of its war effort. The application of conscription there means the distribution of the sacrifice of war equally over all sections of the country. Canada is not at the beginning. Some of our provinces have already contributed thousands more men than their proportion of the army called for. Others have not raised the quotas asked from them. To apply conscription to all parts of Canada under these conditions would not distribute the sacrifice of war over all sections of the country. It would impose a double measure of sacrifice on some sections in order to excuse other sections from doing their "bit." And just why should any section be excused when the lives, liberties and property of everybody in the country are at stake? Conscription, if it is needed, should be first applied where it is needed—that is where the shortage has occurred. The United States Government is not conscripting men in one state in order to excuse men in another state from doing their duty.

WHERE THE "HARM" WOULD FALL.

Hon. Mr. Seigney calculates that the conscription bill would take twenty-five thousand men from Quebec, and says that this number of men can be spared from that province "without any harm being done." But the other provinces of Canada have had to contribute their quotas of men without regard to the "harm" that would be done to their domestic or industrial interests. Had the public taken the ground that only men who could be spared "without any harm" should enlist, there would be a pretty small Canadian army in France now. And if the conscription bill passes these other provinces will have to contribute a share of Quebec's quota without regard to the "harm" that may be done to their homes and industries. And just why should the home interests and the industrial interests of Quebec be saved from "harm" at the expense of the people of the other provinces? Conscription applied generally under the present conditions of enlistment would be a fine thing for slacker provinces. It is the provinces which are not slackers which would have to stand the "harm" Mr. Seigney talks about.

NATURALLY.

The proposal that men be conscripted in Western Canada to make up the shortage from Eastern Canada seems to be very popular with newspapers published in Eastern Canada. The notion that the slacker province or provinces should be first called upon to make up their own shortage does not appear to commend itself to newspapers published in those sections.

THE CANADIAN COMMANDER.

The Canadian troops at the front are now under command of a Canadian general. It is claimed for General Currie that he won the place through merit, and is entirely qualified to be entrusted with the fearful responsibility that is involved. In that event, his appointment will doubtless be as gratifying to the men at the front as to their countrymen at home.

COMPULSION WHERE NEEDED.

No Canadian province is exempt from the penalties which would fall upon Canada if the Allied cause were beaten. No province, therefore, should be excused from contributing its just proportion of the number of men Canada has undertaken to put into the field. To excuse one province by conscripting men from other provinces to make up its quota would be coercion. Canada is now 80,000 men short of the half million promised. That shortage has occurred altogether in Eastern Canada, mainly in the province of Quebec. The section in default should be required to "pull up the slack" before conscription is applied elsewhere. To apply conscription generally before that is done would be to conscript men in one province in order that another province may be excused from doing its share. Compulsion should be applied where it is needed—not where it is not needed, in order to excuse a province that is in default.

WHY EXCUSE ANY PROVINCE?

An exchange ironically suggests that a referendum be taken on the question of compulsory taxation. Well, if the proposal were that the people of the other provinces should pay their own taxes and also a part of Quebec's taxes, the chances are that the people of the other provinces would desire a chance to say whether they were willing to do it or whether they demanded that Quebec should pay its own taxes. The proposal being that the other provinces, beside providing their own contingents of troops, shall also supply the bulk of Quebec's contingent, the people of the other provinces would seem to be equally entitled to a chance to say whether they are willing to do it or whether they demand that Quebec supply its own quota of men. Men's lives are of more value than dollars. If it would be unfair to automatically impose a share of Quebec's taxes upon the people of the other provinces, must it not be also unfair to conscript men from other provinces in order to excuse slackers in Quebec?

LEGAL INQUIRIES

Legal questions will be answered in the columns of The Bulletin, after being submitted to The Bulletin's own legal representatives. Write on one side of the paper only. Be brief. Send stamped envelope for reply.

To the Bulletin Legal Department: The creek follows the road between my neighbor and me. They surveyed the road on my neighbor's side of the creek and also surveyed on my side but decided to have the road on my neighbor's side but people always travel on my side now. I have to open gates and drive my cattle across the road to the creek and drive them back causing a good deal of trouble. I have asked for a subway under the road. I am willing for the public to travel on my side. I have tried to have this settled for three years. Can I compel them to put in a subway under the road for my cattle to go to drink or can I shut up the road or can I put in a gate on the road and let the public open and shut the gate. We never had any trouble about this but would like it settled.

SUBSCRIBER.

If the legal surveyed road is on the other side of the creek you can fence your property and stop people from going across it. Before stopping the road, however, it would be advisable to notify the municipality of your intention so that they can make arrangements in regard to the road.

ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Bulletin to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner. To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the questioner. This information is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

Laura Ingersoll Secord.

To the Bulletin: Would you tell me Laura Secord's maiden name, the date of her birth and death; also her father's name?

SUBSCRIBER, Mannville.

Ingersoll. She was the eldest daughter of Major Thomas Ingersoll and was born at Great Barrington, Mass., in 1775. She died Oct. 17, 1858. Her father and brother had fought on the Republican side during the Revolutionary war. The family came to Ontario in 1793 attracted by Governor Simcoe's land settlement scheme. James Secord her husband was of a U. E. Loyalist family. His ancestors were Huguenots and came from La Rochelle, France, settling in New York in 1681. Like other Huguenot immigrants the family took the Loyalist side in the War of Independence. The name originally was Secord. It has been Anglicized to Secord and Sycar.

Canada and British Crown.

To the Bulletin: Would you answer the following questions please?

1. In what year did England take Canada?

2. Who did they take it from?

3. In what year did the United States get their independence?

4. Why is it of July called Dominion Day?

5. What battles have the Irish regiments distinguished themselves?

J. F. W. City.

1 and 2. In 1763 by the Treaty of Paris, France ceded all her possessions in North America east of the Mississippi except the city of New Orleans and a small adjacent district. But by the defeat of Montcalm at Wolfe and the fall of Quebec in 1759, and Montreal in 1760 the power of the French in North America had been broken.

3. In 1783 Great Britain acknowledged the independence of the United States. The war of independence began in 1775 and ended with the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown in 1781. The Declaration of Independence was signed July 4, 1776.

4. Because on that date in the year 1867 the British North America act under which the provinces were federated into a Dominion came into force.

The Irish regiments have taken part in the fighting from the retreat from Mons up to the present time. They were particularly prominent in the battle of La Boisselle on July 1st, present year, and in the last great drive on June 7th. They have also been in the fighting in Macedonia.

Blarney Stone.

What is the origin of "kissing the Blarney stone?"

The Blarney stone is a relic of the ancient castle of Blarney in Ireland. According to tradition the castle was besieged by the English under the Earl of Desmond, who, having concluded an armistice with the commander of the castle on condition of its surrender, waited long for the fulfillment of the terms, but continually put off with soft speeches instead, until he became the jest of Elizabeth's ministers and the dupe of the Lord of Blarney. From that date "kissing the Blarney Stone" has been synonymous with flattery and smooth words.

Mr. Hoover states that in the United States food speculators have extracted from the American people in excess of normal profits $50,000,000 a month for the last five months. Judge that from comparative prices. We should say that the proportion of excess profits extracted by food speculators in Canada is much higher.

Should Have Wide Scope.

From the Toronto Globe.
In Canada state compulsion should be applied not only to a small minority of Canadian men, who are fit for the hardship of the front, but should widen its scope to touch the lives and interests of all Canadians, so as to bring them into a fellowship of sacrifice and service. A purely military program at Ottawa will not suffice. It will be the duty of progressive members to urge well-considered legislation to mobilize the resources, the talent and the energies of the nation for the task which ought to be laid upon all.

The Keynote of Situation.

From the Calgary New Telegram (Cons).
Mr. Fred Pardee, Liberal member for West Lambton, who is supporting the Borden conscription measure struck the keynote of the situation in his speech in Parliament yesterday when he declared that the Prime Minister had precipitated conscription without any education of the people. No person can very well deny that statement. Only last December Sir Robert Borden toured the Dominion, with Mr. R. B. Bennett, of Calgary, as his lieutenant, and from almost every town, station and village made that there would be no compulsory service in Canada. Mr. Bennett, indeed, told the people of Toronto that "conscription in Canada would mean civil war." In addition to that three or four ministers of the government, including Sir Sam Hughes, repeatedly assured the people that conscription would never be introduced in this country. No wonder, then, that the Prime Minister's announcement has created a situation such as has never been seen in Canada before. With a campaign of education of the people, coupled with the statement that compulsion might be necessary unless the recruiting appeal met with a more generous response, it is doubtful if any more drastic measure would have been necessary; but, in any event the people would have been prepared for what was coming. On the word of a half-dozen cabinet ministers and leading Conservatives in the confidence of the government at Ottawa, The New Telegram repeatedly assured its readers that there would be no compulsory service in Canada, quoting the solemn pledge of the Prime Minister in support of the contention. In view of those assurances, neither this newspaper nor the readers of it were prepared for any such sudden switch on the part of the head of the government.

One evening a pan handler sidled up to William Collier as the player was walking around to the theatre, and addressed him thus:
"Sir, I began life poor and in hard luck."

An Irishman, passing a shop where a notice was displayed saying that everything was sold by the yard, thought he would play a joke on the shopman, so he entered the shop and asked for a yard of milk. The shopman, not in the least taken aback, dipped his fingers in a bowl of milk and drew a line a yard long on the counter. Pat not wishing to be caught in his own trap, asked the price. "Sixpence," said the shopman. "All right, sorr," said Pat. "Roll it up; I'll take it." —Tit-Bits.

The Royal Flying Corps

Out of the gathering twilight they stoop to the plain,
Needing no eyrie that clings to the desolate height.
Where scarce the most venturesome climber a foothold may gain,
Lords of the air, of the peace of the earth they are fair.
After the struggle, the turmoil, and stress of the fight.

These be the victors in many a glorious tilt,
Scouts of our armies and eyes of our terrible guns,
Marking and mapping each fortress the foeman has built.
These be the rovers whose death-dealing cargoes are split
Down on the aidings and gaps of the hosts of the Huns.

Back from the chill heights of air to the warmth of the land,
Far from the battle, the thunder and roar of the fray,
Swoops in a chorus of song the victorious band,
Recking not aught of the morrow's insatiable demand.

Surely enough are the triumphs and spoils of the day!
Yet o'er the joy of the meeting a shadow the lines
Sacrifice? Aye; for it is but the fortune of war.
Death is abroad in the uttermost paths of the skies,
Swift and relentless yet clad in a merciful guise.
One shall return to the ranks of his comrades no more.

Vacation Death Roll

During every holiday season the newspapers record a startling number of accidental deaths among pleasure seekers.

Supposing you should lose your life while on your vacation this year, what will happen to your family? Do you realize that you've a duty towards them that doesn't end with your death?

Perhaps your wife hasn't been trained to be a breadwinner. But your failure to protect her until she dies—till the children are educated and self-supporting—may force your widow into the business grind in spite of her incapacity.

It's not a pleasant prospect, is it? But isn't it a possible contingency? To offset it you need an Imperial policy to perpetuate your income after you're gone.

Expert Advises Early Buying To Insure Season's Supply

different districts in the States, where agreements had been drawn up between the U. M. W. of A. and different Operators, it had been found that the men, in a great many cases, had either not waited for a decision on a dispute, or, after a decision had been given against them, had gone on strike in the particular colliery where the dispute had arisen, (such strikes are called Pit Head strikes). So many of these had occurred during the period of agreement prior to 1914, that John P. White, president of the International body of the U. M. W. of A., had signed an agreement which included what is called a penalty clause, which allows an Operator to fine the men $1.00 per day each for every day they are out on strike in violation of agreement, and vice versa, allows the men to fine the Company $1.00 per day per man affected, in cases where the Company institutes a lock-out in violation of agreement. Similar conditions having arisen in District No. 18, the Operators asked for, and were granted by the men, a similar clause in the agreement which was entered into with the men in 1915. This was the one and only material change in the agreement which had been in force previously. The penalty clause copied from the American agreements was later found to be in Canada illegal, as worded, and therefore unworkable, although entered into by both parties in good faith.

Business Becomes Brier
In August, 1915, the coal trade started to pick up, and became quite brisk through the winter. Great industrial activity in American munition factories called for more men, and higher wages were offered by the factories, which were making such a profit that they could well afford to pay much higher prices for labor, and labor was drawn from the American mines to meet these demands. The American Operators, in order to retain the necessary number of men, adopted the system of bonusing their men, in order to get them to remain. Such bonuses, running up to as high as 10 per cent. in some cases, were called War Bonuses.

On June 15th, 1916, the men of District No. 18 demanded a War Bonus of 10 per cent. and struck to enforce this demand. After prolonged negotiations and Government pressure, the Operators granted a War Bonus equal to 5 per cent. on all wages, but were unable in most cases, to increase the price of their coal on account of contracts existing, and therefore had to stand this loss. The officials of District No. 18 signed up a supplementary agreement to last to March 31st, 1917, and this agreement was accepted by the men, who returned to work.

In October, 1916, a copy of a telegram to Sir Robert Borden, prime minister, from the miners, was received by the Operators, in which the miners stated to the Minister that they demanded 25 per cent. further increase to compensate for the increased cost of living, and, failing which, they asked for a Commission to investigate the increased cost of living, and they to be granted an increase commensurate with same, also adding that they saw no use of discussing the matter with the Operators, so had appealed to the Government direct. The Operators replied to the Minister, saying that they could not give 25 per cent. but asked for a Commission to go into the whole matter of the market, earnings and the cost of living, to which they received no answer, but, without notifying or consulting the Operators, the executive of the Miners was called to Ottawa, and there promised that a Commission would be appointed to determine the increased cost of living, and the same would be given to them. Meanwhile, no increases which were in excess or even equal to the 8 per cent. which had been granted the Miners of District No. 18 had been granted in the fields which the Western Coal Operators Association have to meet in competition—that is, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Washington and Montana.

Election of Officers
The situation at this time was further complicated by the election of the Miners' officials. A new set of men started electioneering for the official jobs of the Union, and the fight developed upon the lines of which faction could get the most out of the Operators, and the election campaign developed into a regular auction of who should be elected to get their knife deepest into the Operators.

The election was held in November or December, 1916, and the Antis were elected. Later, some of the new officials were called to Ottawa to give the Government their views of how the coal industry should be run, and the defeated old officials had a recount of the ballots, and returned themselves back to office. Later, the whole election was declared null and void, and to this day there has not been another election, but both factions are electioneering, and the Operators' scalps are the prizes both sides are offering to the men, if elected.

Commission Appointed
This Commission was appointed and found that living had increased $1.75 per family of five, per week. Now the average family in the coal camps is two, as over 65 per cent. of the miners are single, but, notwithstanding this, the Government ordered the Operators to increase each miner's wage 30c per day, or they would take over the mines. The Operators replied that they could not see their way clear to pay this increase, and informed the Government they would be quite willing to have them take over the mines, turning over the management of the property to the Government to use as they saw fit. This the Government did not do, but later, the Minister of Labor arrived in Calgary and after prolonged negotiations ordered the Operators to give this 30c per day up to February 1st, and to endeavor to get this from the consumers, in default of this they, the Government, would supply this themselves, after which date the Operator had to either get his customer to come through, or stand the difference, which the Operators did.

I might say that the Miners were on strike a large part of the time that the above negotiations were going on, and, as explained before, the penalty clause, being inoperative, was not applied.

These bonuses of 8 per cent. and 30c per day per man, were continued till March 31st, 1917, and paid by the Operators. On March 1st, as per agreement, the Miners' representatives and the W. C. O. A. again met in Calgary to negotiate a new agreement.

There was a great deal of feeling on the part of the Operators that it was useless to negotiate with the men who treated all contracts and agreements as mere scraps of paper, and on whose written and signed word no reliance could be placed, but again we were urged by the government to overlook trifles like the breaking of agreements and to start in afresh with the men—whichever the Operators did.

The first demand made by the operators was a satisfactory guarantee by the men that they would abide by any contract entered into, and the old penalty clause be redrafted to make it legal and workable. This was accepted by the Miners' representatives after much negotiating, and after John R. White's personal representative had told the operators that they were justified in asking for such a penalty clause, and that the men had acted unjustly in striking as they had, in violation of their agreement.

Non-suspension Policy.
At the beginning of these negotiations, the miners' representatives announced that at a general meeting of the miners, in Fernie, just prior to the negotiations, they had adopted a new policy which they called the non-suspension policy, and which meant that the men of District No. 18 agreed to remain at work while the negotiations of the new agreement, even if the negotiations extended past the date of expiration of the old agreement. They also asked the operators, in writing, that, in case the negotiations extended past the date of the expiration of the old agreement, if they would agree to pay the men the same rate of wages as they were then receiving—that is, the old agreement, plus the two war bonuses.—in which case they would continue to work on these rates until the new agreement was reached. This the operators agreed to do.

After the miners' representatives and executive had accepted the penalty clause, the agreement was taken up clause by clause, for discussion and readjustment. There are 34 clauses in the working conditions of the mines. The miners asked for changes in favor of themselves in 33 of these. Fourteen were so changed giving the men much more liberal conditions of work and pay. The twenty remaining clauses were unchanged, except the penalty clause. The increase in wages over the old agreement, taking into account the shortening of hours for outside men, were equivalent to 20 per cent. This agreement was accepted as just and fair by the Miners' committee and John P. White's personal representative, but, on submitting same to the men, through misrepresentation by some of the miners and friction between the two factions of candidates (one faction very weakly advised the men to accept and the other strongly advised the men to repudiate) the men turned the proposed agreement down on May 5th, and those that were out on strike remained on strike, and the few camps that had remained at work went on strike on this date. During the negotiations, the Minister of Labor was in Calgary, and watched very closely the whole proceedings. He twice expressed personal satisfaction at the liberality of the operators' offer to the men, and, as the negotiations were about being closed, he met the men in a joint conference with the operators and told the meeting that, should an agreement not be reached, and the rest of the mines go out on strike, that the government would immediately take action. As, and before, on May 5th the miners went out on strike and are still on strike.

Commissioner's Suggestion.
Early in June, the government appointed a commissioner with authority to try to make a settlement. After having interviewed both the men and the operators, he suggested to the operators that, as Washington, Wyoming and Montana had, within the last week, granted an increase to their miners during the life of their agreement, equivalent to 7 1/2 per cent. over all day rates and contract rates the same as had been offered by the operators' association to the men, that he believed the men would accept a similar offer from the operators of District 18. This the operators agreed to, but the men again refused to accept.

A few days later the government commissioner approached the operators with an ultimatum that they grant a 7 1/2 per cent. increase above what had already been offered the men, and asked that the operators withdraw the penalty clause, agree to a commission to be appointed—one man appointed by the government, one by the operators, and one by the miners—who should meet not oftener than every four months, and who should determine the increase in living expenses during the past four months, and that this increase should be granted the miners in wages. That the whole agreement should be reopened for readjustment. The operators agreed to this, and the men refused to accept it. The men would not accept a similar offer from the operators of District 18. The highest wage schedule of any coal miners in the world, and which would be 7 1/2 per cent. over all contract rates in districts in competition with Alberta, and agreed to the commission, and agreed to abide by their findings, but they would not agree to the elimination of the penalty clause, nor to the reopening of the agreement.

Reasons Advanced by Miners.
The reason advanced by the miners for requiring the elimination of the penalty clause, was that, working under the penalty clause, should any abnormal increase in the cost of living occur, they had no recourse to obtain an increase in their wages, but it was pointed out to the government commissioner and the miners, that the appointment of this commission would eliminate such objections, and that there could not possibly be any reason why the miners should object to the penalty clause if they were entering into the agreement in good faith. It was quite obvious, on the face of it, that their desire to eliminate the penalty clause was that they might be able to call a strike at any time that they desired, and that wages should not be increased to the amount which they desired, and it was for that reason, and to avoid these strikes that the operators were so insistent on retaining the penalty clause.

The miners, I understand, later on waived their condition about the reopening of the old agreement, clause by clause.

The government commissioner also asked us that the agreement and rates back to April 1st, and that the first sitting of the commission should be on August 1st, which would likely mean another 1 per cent. advance on this agreement.

Every time that the operators made a concession, the miners through the government commissioner came back with one more demand, and as there seemed to be no finality whatever, and the only solution seemed to be to turn the mines over to the men, to be wrecked, or to the government, the operators had to refuse the government commissioner's suggestions and invite the Government to step in and run the mines, which they are about to undertake.

Mr. Pitcher pointed out that the average wage on last offer, every man and boy in District 18, 7,000 employees, was $4.62; contract mining, $5.57; minimum wage $3.91. No extra charge was made by the operators in their agreement, with the men, for coal, water, light, house-rent, or powder supplied to the men, although as you all know, he said, these supplies have advanced since last agreement was drawn up, on an average of probably 30 per cent.

Sporting Facts and Fancies

The St. Louis Browns have a new pet now in the person of Solthorn, the California pitcher, who is delivering the goods for them in fine shape.

It is becoming increasingly hard to find hard hitters. Uncle Sam is going to monopolize them for the present as he has some important work or them to do. However, if there are a few husky young men about who think they can hit a ball and would like to try their luck at it, let them apply at once to President Hickey of the Cardinals. He needs them badly in his business.

Here comes Guy Morton. Watch him. It took a mighty long time for his pitching arm to get in to working order, but he now seems to have achieved that happy circumstance. Incidentally, hats off to Le Fohl, who nursed Morton along patiently and carefully, for the ultimate benefit of the Clevelanders.

They're not quite a lively pitcher on the Portland club of the Pacific Coast League in the person of Mails, formerly on the pitching staff of the Robins.

The single umpire system adopted by President Hickey of the American Association, is working out better than the fans thought it would.

Tom Needham has certainly put the pep into the Newark Bears. The other teams of the International league will certainly have to get after them if the pennant is to be kept out of Newark. However, if the Bears can keep up their pace they certainly deserve to take home the bunting.

No veteran of the diamond ever received a greater honor than did Joe Hornung at the Polo Grounds in New York the other day. It was Joe's birthday and he was one of the star players of the management. To the younger fan, Joe Hornung's name doesn't mean much, but the old timers remember the days when Joe sent a thrill through them by his spectacular and excellent playing. At the present time Joe is a special policeman at the ball grounds and has just celebrated his sixtieth birthday. He was at one time left fielder for the Giants and for many years before that was one of the stars of the old Boston club. Among the records he holds is one of six stolen bases in a game at Pittsburgh in 1890. He first played with the National league in 1875 and was one of its star players until 1892. He then went to the minor leagues and in 1898 and 1897 was a National League umpire. Then he officiated in the same capacity for other leagues and finally for college teams. Hornung has the distinction of having been identified with baseball for forty-seven consecutive seasons as player, manager, umpire or employee. He dates his record in the game back to 1870 when he was water boy and bat tender for the Ulica club, and probably holds the record for length of service in the game.

The Great Gotch-Parr Wrestling Match.
Frank Gotch has defeated a lot of good men in his long career, but perhaps the hardest battle he ever fought was that against Jim Parr, the English catch-as-catch-can wrestler, at Buffalo thirteen years ago today. After the bout the Iowa farmer declared that Parr was the speediest and most scientific rough and tumble wrestler he had ever met. A big crowd gathered in Buffalo to see the combat, and hundreds of wrestling fans from Canada were present to cheer the Britisher. Gotch had the advantage of weight by about a dozen pounds, and he needed it, together with all his strength and cleverness in the engagement with the Englishman, who had been victorious in a thousand bouts on the mat. Parr mixed things from the very start. He tried his famous scissors hold, which had brought him victory so often, but every time he found himself flying over Gotch's head. It was fifty minutes of furious combat before Parr was pinned to the mat by a half Nelson and a toe hold. Then they went at it again. Parr, with unbroken spirit, rushed the American, who had to give ground. He sent Gotch to the mat but was unable to hold him there. The next minute Gotch was on top and Parr was down on the mat. A scissors to the body, after twenty-eight minutes, won the victory for the American. Parr was a thorough sportsman and made no excuses, admitting that the best man had won. His game, clever battle and his attitude in defeat won the respect of the entire audience, and the cheers and applause were as much for the vanquished as they were for the victor.
